HIS MAIESTIES RESOLUTION,

Concerning the Laws of this Realm, and the Proteſtant Profeſsion.

THe humble Deſires of the Subject have bin very graciouſly entertained and welcomed, and the Petitioners themſelves have departed ſatisfied and contented.

But as yet the ſick Church hath not bin purged from her malignant diſtempers, neither hath ſhe as yet taken an Antidote to preſerve her from the Venome and poyſon of Romes malice.

Theſe manifold Petitions, with the earneſt ſupplications of his Majeſties moſt loyall Subjects, did cauſe a deep impreſſion in his Royall conſideration, and alſo His Majeſtie having rightly and conſiderately weighed the diſquiet of His Subjects occaſioned by ſo weighty a cauſe, knowing that Salus populi is Suprema Lex, the ſafety and welfare of the Subject is, and ought to be the Princes greateſt care, hath been graciouſly pleaſed to declare himſelf, and publiſh his intention concerning the Government of the Church.

His Majeſty hath formerly for the ſatisfaction of the Subject, Declared himſelf to be a true maine-tainer of the true and ancient Proteſtant Religion, and hath denyed all coherence with the Church of Rome.

And he hath alſo now of late, to give a full and plenary ſatisfaction unto all, reſolved upon a generall Reformation. And to this purpoſe hath conſented, that the maine matters of difference which have occaſioned all theſe diſtractions, ſhall be framed, and diſcuſſed by a number of grave, wiſe, and Religious Divines, which ſhall be thought fit by the Houſe of Parliament, every County electing two for this ſo great and weighty a buſineſſe, that ſo all things being according to Gods true word, ſcan'd and examined, by the judicious and religious Iudgements of thoſe worthy perſons, the truth may appear, light and inſtructions may be given unto Authority, and by their power and uniformity of Government and worſhip, agreeable to Gods Word, may be ſtiled in the Church.

And his Majeſtie did further declare, that it was alwayes his care and deſire, that all offenſive and unneceſſary Adjuncts whatſoever might be removed and taken away, that ſo the tender Conſcience might not apprehend any cauſe to ſlight and neglect the obſervation of Religious duties.

The enemies againſt this Kingdome occaſioned by the diſcontented ſpirits of the Catholike faction, have at laſt wakened his confident thoughts, and he now moſt ſeaſonably conceive the hazard which was like by that meanes to ſeize the ſecurity of the Kingdom.

Wherefore the better to effect and perfect his ſo well well begun Reſolution, hath given ſtrict and ſevere apprehenſion of all Chatholiques, for their diſarming, and unleſſe they will take the Oath of Supreamcie for their Impriſonment.

Neither do his waking and vigilant care reſt here, but out of his tender reſpect and affection to his Subjects, will with all ſpeed prevent the growth of the inſuing dangers, which muſt ſucceed the increaſe of Papiſts in this Kingdom.

Whereupon, being moved with the Conſideration of thoſe inſuing Evils, he hath taken Order for the expulſion of all Prieſts, and Ieſuits whatſoever from out of His Majeſties Dominions, and if any ſhall be taken whoſe contumacious ſpirit ſhall dare to oppoſe, and contemne this His Majeſties moſt Royall Authority, That then His Majeſtie will leave them to the Iuſtice of the Law, and will deny unto them the expreſsion of any favour, but what the Law in Iuſtice and Equity ſhall think their contumacious offence may deſerve.

They ſhall not now as in former times relye and depend upon His Majeſties Clemency, and ſo take advantage of His Majeſties mournfull diſpoſition, to bail and maintain their Hereticall and unjuſtifiable courſes.

He now perceives that his indulgencie, their Errours, and his tenderneſſe of their lives and perſons, unwilling to merit the Name of a ſevere Prince, hath very much encouraged them, whereby they have taken more then civill Liberty to ſe-duce his loving people, and ſubvert both the Laws and Liberty of this Kingdome.

Wherefore he is now reſolved, that Iuſtice ſhall take its free and uncontradicted courſe againſt them, and that all favour and clemency ſhall be as far from them, as their practices are from Iuſtice and Conſcience.

Through one little hole have crept in many moſt dangerous and deſperate Evils, to the ſubverting of the generall peace, and diſquieting of many weak and meanely inſtructed Conſciences.
